ABOUT SUE LONDON

Having survived two near-death experiences that gave her direct witness to the “other side”, Sue has served as a bridge between our two worlds and has used her experience to help bring peace and healing to people and their pets.

Sue is also the author of a series of best-selling books that focus on pet issues. Some titles include: Signs From Your Beloved Pets, Rocky's Trip To The Hospital and Rocky's Positive Thoughts Coloring Book.

The messages she is able to channel through the hearts and souls of pets, have helped to provide closure, heal relationships and bring peace and understanding that may never have been possible without this empathic bridge.

Sue is a firm believer that everything happens for a reason, as the experiences she has faced has made her a new and better person.

She can truly understand what others are going through, and authentically connect with them and their animals, to help them find peace through her life-changing healing methods.
